

WHEN THE CABBAGE HEADS AGAIN.

When the cabbage heads again, my love, and cauliflower blossoms. Then new potatoes by the peck will be ready for consumption. And think of all the roasting ears we'll have for dinner then. In that delightful season when the cabbage heads again.

When the cabbage heads again, my love, we'll throw canned goods away. And have new garden vegetables delivered every day. Green watermelons will be here, alas! my love, and then we'll have the doctor daily when the cabbage heads again.

Everybody Knows

That at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulations of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrofula, salt in the blood, or other disease may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier ever produced. It is the only medicine of which, "100 doses one dollar" is true.

Young women are frequently supposed to have consumption, when the cause of bad health is leucorrhoea, or white, or some other female trouble. The system needs tonics and uterine tonics, all of which are combined in Dr. Drougole's English Female Bitters. One bottle taken according to directions will convince you of the truth of this statement. If your druggist don't keep it, write Dr. J. P. Drougole, Louisville, Ky.

It is stated by the Choya Shimoun that the Japanese Government is indebtedness to foreign countries, which in 1879 amounted to $10,000,000, is now only $1,000,000.

"Little spells of fever, little chills so bland. Makes the mighty graveyard and the angel band. A little of Chatham's Chili Tonic taken now and then. Makes the handsome women and the healthy men."

Patents Granted

To inventors in the State of Texas during the past week. Reported for this paper by C. A. Snow & Co., Patent lawyers and solicitors, U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

W. Haupt, Kyle, wagon attachment; J. D. Padgett, Dallas, stirrup leather strap; S. Price, Houston, machine for forming cottonseed meal into cakes.

PHOTOGRAPHIC NOTES.

To photograph interiors the gelatine plates should be exposed proportionately much longer than wet collodion plates. An exposure of five hours is necessary.

Artificial light, so far as flash light is concerned, is not being so much adopted by professional photographers as it was at one time. It is very pleasant to take, and among amateurs it has found great favor, and many interesting as well as amusing pictures have been and will be produced.

To preserve the permanence of a negative developed with pyro, leave it in the fixing bath fully three or four minutes after it is apparently fixed, and you will find its color and printing qualities unaltered. With the ferrous oxalate developer, errors of exposure may be corrected to a certain extent, but not so much as with pyro.

"Don't try flash lights to-night, interiors to-morrow, seascapes the next day, portraits the next, and landscapes sandwiched in between. If you do, your pictures of good negatives will be very small. These subjects are widely different and require altogether different treatment, and each should be taken up and mastered separately."

Keep a cloth over the opened box of plates in the dark room, and so prevent "flat negatives." Throw a cloth over the camera and plate holder during exposure, and so have fewer "foggy plates." Lay a white cloth in the lap of chaperones, and so escape heavy shadows. Keep the inside of the camera entirely free from dust, and save the plate from pinholes.

The Journal de l'Industrie Photographique recently published two very interesting photographs of the explosion of the explosion of the cartridge factory at Antwerp, taken accidentally from a distance of 1,700 meters. These clouds present a remarkable resemblance to gigantic puffs of smoke, and correspond, therefore, to the phenomena witnessed at volcanic eruptions.

With reference to the claim on often and generally made "that salt in the water in which prints are washed is a powerful aid in ridding them of hypo," Mr. W. H. Sherman contends that "the function of salt water containing prints impregnated with hypo is to seriously hinder its elimination," and that "it was a serious mistake and loss of time to use it for the purpose of facilitating the accomplishment of that object."

The Photographic Journal gives, as a new fixing bath, the following: A liter of hyposulphite solution (about 1.5) is mixed with 50 c. c. or more of sulphuric acid. It is prepared by introducing gaseous sulphuric acid into concentrated solution of sodium bisulphite. Yellow stained negatives developed with pyrogallol can be cleared by washing them in a dish of water, to which are added several cubic centimeters of this sulphuric acid solution with some muriatic or sulphuric acid.

CURIOUS WEATHER HAPPENINGS.

In 1568 the Antwerp reapers found all wheat heads to be as red as blood.

Wurttemberg, Germany, had a shower of brimstone and ashes in 1641.

In 1588 bread put in the oven at Nuremberg, Germany, was taken out covered with a bloody sweat.

A snout, writing in 1551, told of a leaf being cut out of which blood flowed as freely as from a fresh wound.

LUMBAGO.

Lumbago is a form of the chronic stage of rheumatism, in the lumbago region of the back. It is usually cured by rubbing the parts freely with Dr. Jacob's Oil. It is commonly known as "Backache."

BACKACHE.

I was in bed two months with backache; suffered about three months. I was cured by Dr. Jacob's Oil permanently. No return in 14 months. G. W. JEFFERSON.

THE CHARLES A. WHEELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

The Great Spring Tonic.

W. M. Gilbert, Druggist, Albany, Ga., writes: "We are selling large quantities of Swift's Specific for a spring alternative and general health tonic, and with the best results. It is now largely used as a preventive and cure for Malaria. There are many remarkable evidences of its merit in this section."

Rev. L. B. Paine, Macon, Ga., writes: "We have been using Swift's Specific at the orphan's home as a remedy for blood complaints and as a general health tonic, and have had remarkable results from its use on the children and employees of the institution. It is such an excellent tonic, and keeps the blood so pure, that the system is less liable to disease. It has cured some of our children of Scrofula."

We will mail a treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases to all who will send their address to us.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WISEMAN'S SCORFUM SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakens as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. 11-13-14

WOMAN'S WEAR.

The fancy tartans come in silks for visiting gowns.

Plaids and tartans are being already made up on the loom.

The Douglas tartan is popular for theatre toilets, particularly matinees.

Tartans are combined admirably with velveteens in children's garments.

The new nun's veils come with borders and sometimes fringes on one edge.

Many of the new dressing gowns for dinner and reception wear are made to fasten in the back.

Linon collars and cuffs are no longer worn, and the attempt to revive them has utterly failed.

The visiting head gear for married women is the small capote and the toque, with strings or without.

Broche silks, woolsens, zephyrs and ginghams come in novel shades of color and bold combinations.

The Mackenzie tartan is so popular that it is frequently seen, combined with velvet, at tea and receptions.

Many of the new suitings brought out for tailors gowns have fringed borders in a contrasting color on the selvage.

Mohair gowns in two tones or two colors will be worn, while those in pure shades of buff, gray, beige, red, green, navy and deep blue mode, and tan will be as popular as ever.

ELECTRIC NOTES.

Electric power is being used in falling trees in the Galician forests.

Fuel gas made by electricity from crude petroleum is said to be made at a cost of seventeen cents per 1,000.

A new electric brake recently tried in England stopped a car in thirty yards when traveling thirty miles an hour.

Electricity is now used to temper and harden steel wire. A new heavy gauge dynamo tempers 1,500 feet of wire in 15 minutes.

An electric street car line at Pittsburgh has no slot rail, overhead wires, central station nor power house. The vehicle is propelled by a dynamo driven by a gas engine supplied from tanks of compressed gas.

How to Grow Beautiful.

She knew it was necessary to become beautiful in order to be considered attractive, and so she made the art of beautifying a study. She felt it wise to be plump and hearty than to be thin and delicate. To this end she knew good health was essential. She had suffered from backaches, sideaches and bearing down pains, and was restless until she found the medicine she needed. It improved her appetite and digestion. Her habits became regular. Her flesh increased and became more firm and solid. Her complexion became clear and beautiful and free from pimples. Her lips grew red and her cheeks grew rosy. She did not know an ache or pain. Exercise gave her pleasure and she became the life of her companions. She could ride a tri-cycle for many miles and never seemed to grow weary. Her laughter was catching and all the young men loved her. She is now a happy wife and mother. Who was she? What was her name? Well, no matter, let us know the medicine she used. With pleasure, with pleasure, sweet girls. She used Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. If any there be among you who are sickly, go quickly and do likewise.—Mansfield Independent.

McGiggins calls his room on the tenth floor a princely apartment, on account of its royal highness.—Light.

Help to Mothers Nursing.

Mothers who have the care and draught of nursing infants need the aid of strengthening tonic to make up the nourishment required for the growth of the child. Als, porter, and lager beer have often been recommended. Of late, since physicians have become aware that the Port Wine produced by Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., is strictly pure, they have prescribed it instead of ale or porter, as being more blood making. This wine is principally valued for by mothers who have nursing infants at the breast, as the best supplying medium to be found. The wine is rich in body and not intoxicant but gently stimulating and makes good blood. Druggists generally keep it, and sell it for a dollar a bottle.—Enquirer.

These are trying times for me, was what the cook said as she stood over the lard keg.—Borton Courier.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful cough medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of cough, croup and bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. This discovery (now being sold under a guarantee, a test, which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Reynolds & Daniel.
